RECOGNIZING QUALITY

Successful, quality projects show a culture that has good communication and problem solving, and a good connection between the client and our company. Quality leaders give value to the organization and its customers by making sure that both sides get what they want as much as possible.

ONTHUMOMS

MONITOR & CONTROLLING RISKS

FANAR priority is caring about the safety and health of its workers. It is one of our main values. We want to avoid any accidents or injuries. We work as a team to keep each other safe. We have a goal of zero incidents. We work more than 3 thousand hours every year. We have very low rates of accidents and injuries.

We give our workers the best tools, training, and practices to stay safe. We want our workers to go back to their families safely. We have a great safety system that sets an example for others. We have a system that helps us find and fix unsafe situations and behaviors. Beside that, we have manuals that tell us how to work safely in any situation.

We check our safety procedures periodically. We value our workers as people, not just employees. We want them to be completely safe at work and at home. We share our safety culture with our families and communities.
